

Know your Rules?

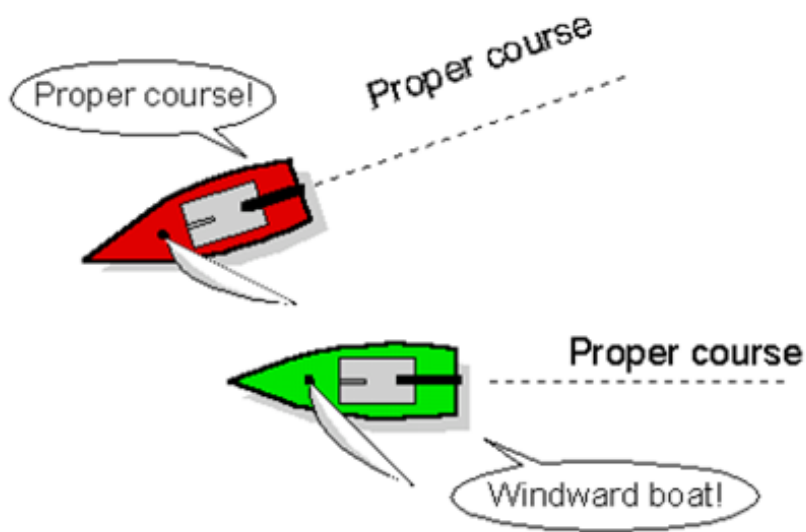

Who is in the wrong here? Red or Green?

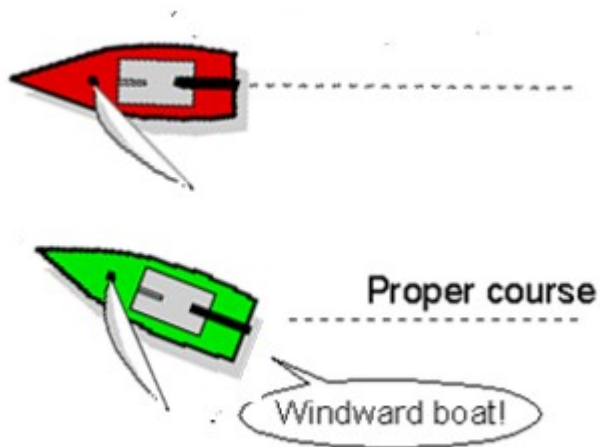

The yellow boat wants to duck the three starboard tackers, while the green boat wants to tack to avoid them.

Who gets to choose?

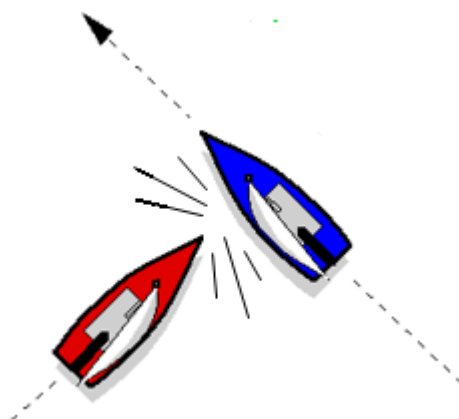

Who has to keep clear of who?

Assume that the green boat was initially clear astern of the red boat and is travelling faster.

Similar situation, but in this case the leeward boat is sailing above her proper course.

If there is a collision and a protest, who would be disqualified?

It is 15 minutes before the start, and there are no flags flying on the start boat.

You have a port/starboard collision with another boat. Can you protest the other boat?
